

Humanities and Social Sciences
Indian Institute of Technology Bombay
M.Phil. (Planning and Development)

Some Helpful Links

1. Economics of Climate-Resilient Development, Basics of Health Economics, Sustainable Urban Land Use Planning, Safe and Resilient Cities, Gender-informed Statistics, Policy related issues etc.

<http://einstitute.worldbank.org/ei/>

2. Reasoning, Data Analysis and Writing, English Composition I, Public Policy Challenges of the 21st Century, The Age of Sustainable Development, Social Entrepreneurship, Globalization and You, The Power of Microeconomics and Macroeconomics: Economic Principles in the Real World, How to Change the World, Statistics: Making Sense of Data, Become a Social Scientist: Methods and Statistics, Qualitative Research Methods, Understanding Research Methods etc.

<https://www.coursera.org/>

3. Introduction to Data Analytics, Macro Economics, International Economics, Programming, Data Structures and Algorithms, Indian Philosophy, Language and Mind, History of Economic Theory, Literary Theory and Literary Criticism, Sustainable River Basin Management, Introduction to Programming in C, Practical English: Learning and Teaching, Infrastructure Economics, Quantitative Finance, Managing Services etc.

<https://onlinecourses.nptel.ac.in/explorer>

4. MIT Opencourseware

<http://ocw.mit.edu/courses/new-courses/>

5. Software Learning

Useful for research such as Mendeley, STATA, SPSS

<https://www.mendeley.com/>, <http://data.princeton.edu/stata/>,

<http://www.stata.com/links/video-tutorials/>,

<http://www.lse.ac.uk/methodology/tutorials/SPSS/home.aspx>